

TODAY'S MEETING

Jamie Winsted, Public Relations & Community Relations Department

Wisconsin Herd

Oshkosh Marriott Waterfront Hotel
Athearn Ballroom C—1 N. Main St.

Jamie works as the primary media contact for the Wisconsin Herd while also writing press releases, post-game recaps, game notes, and coordinating all interview requests. She is also the publisher of the Wisconsin Herd's season media guide and team game day program. She works to connect the Herd with the community through donation requests, mascot and player appearances, and coordinating nonprofit involvement in theme nights through theme jerseys auctions, tabling, recognition, and pre-game programming. Jamie helped create and launch successful Wisconsin Herd community outreach platforms including the annual "Run with the Herd 5K/1K" and the Wisconsin Herd Golf Outing fundraisers.

Rotary Minute: The Four-Way Test

The Four-Way Test—A Guiding Principle for Life

"Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build goodwill and better friendships? Will it be beneficial to all concerned?"

These four simple yet powerful questions make up Rotary's Four-Way Test, a code of ethics that has guided Rotarians for nearly a century. Created in 1932 by Rotarian Herbert J. Taylor, the Four-Way Test was adopted by Rotary in 1943 as a moral compass for personal and professional decision-making.

More than just words, these principles define how Rotarians conduct business, serve their communities, and build relationships based on integrity and trust. The Four-Way Test reminds us that ethical leadership is at the core of Rotary, and it challenges us to uphold honesty, fairness, and goodwill in everything we do. So the next time you face a tough decision, ask yourself: Does it pass the Four-Way Test?
